

Constitution of the British Colloquium for Theoretical Computer Science

1. Name: British Colloquium for Theoretical Computer Science.
2. Aims: The British Colloquium for Theoretical Computer Science (BCTCS) held its first meeting in 1985 at the University of Leeds. Further Colloquia have been organised in each subsequent year. The principal aims of the BCTCS are:
 - 2.1. To offer a regular forum in which U.K. based researchers in all aspects of Theoretical Computer Science can meet, present research findings, and discuss work in these fields.
 - 2.2. To foster an environment within which postgraduate students, undertaking research in the general area of Theoretical Computer Science, may gain the experience of presenting their work in a formal arena and, additionally, benefit from contact with established researchers in the community.
 - 2.3. To provide a platform by which the interests and future well-being of British Theoretical Computer Science may be advanced.
3. The Colloquium: In pursuit of the aims described above, an annual Colloquium will be held.
 - 3.1. The host site for the Colloquium will be decided upon at least 2 years in advance of its being staged. Representatives from any University or equivalent institution in the British Isles may offer to host a future Colloquium. Decisions concerning the venue of a subsequent Colloquium will, normally, be made at an Open General Meeting.
 - 3.2. The Programme for the Colloquium will consist of submitted talks and a small number of invited presentations, the latter being given by distinguished figures from the major fields of interest to Theoretical Computer Science.
 - 3.3. The members of the BCTCS are all those who are registered to attend the current Colloquium. Membership remains valid until the start of the following Colloquium.
4. The Organising Committee of the BCTCS
 - 4.1. The Organising Committee of the BCTCS consists of the following members:
 - The President, Secretary and Treasurer of the BCTCS.
 - The Local Organisers for: the most recent, current, and next Colloquia.

 - 2 additional posts.
 - a) No individual may simultaneously hold two (or more) offices from President, Secretary, or Treasurer.

 - 4.2. The Organising Committee is responsible for providing support to the Local Organisers of the next Colloquium: proposing individuals who could be contacted as potential invited speakers; forwarding relevant information concerning previous colloquia, etc.
 - 4.3. With the exception of the Local Organiser posts, all Organising Committee members will be chosen by a ballot of those attending the Open General Meeting. The elections shall be overseen by the first of the President, Secretary, Treasurer, or additional member who is present and is not a candidate for any post, failing which by a person appointed by the Meeting. The newly elected officers shall take office upon the end of the Colloquium.
 - 4.4. In overseeing the election of Organising Committee members the person responsible will solicit proposers and seconders for individual posts and, in the event of more than one nomination being received for a specific post, record the number of votes in favour of each nominee. The nominee receiving the greatest number of votes will be deemed to have been elected to the post in question.
